CPYRIGHT

"Mr. and Mrs. United States. The two Americans who know most about the Red world conspiracy confirm what this reporter has often told you--not to depend on the smiles of the Communist leaders and their line of devious phony friendship.

"General Gruenther, the Supreme Commander of NATO, told the Senate that Russia's 300,000 cut of the Red Army did not mean peace because, he said, they had enough atomic weapons. Cutting the Red Army from 175 to 115 divisions, said General Gruenther, wouldn't weaken them at all because, he said, they could be just as effective with 100 divisions.

"What General Gruenther neglected to mention is that we, the Americans, have only 19 divisions.

"General Gruenther also told the Senate that the proposed Red cut of 300 planes didn't mean much either because they have 20,000 more. He also said the proposed Red cut in armed force would take place behind Kremlin doors. That was, I assume, General Gruenther's diplomatic way of calling them what they are--arrogant liars.

"Even more significant was the warning by Allen Dulles, the chief of American intelligence. He told the University of Pennsylvania that the Reds are trying to take over all free parliaments, to use the privileges of freedom to destroy freedom itself.

"Mr. Dulles--that's Allen Dulles--warned that, from France to Indonesia, the Reds are driving for representation in all law-making bodies of the democracies. The reason is very simple. It is easier for the Reds to vote us out of those countries than to force us out with their bayonets. They are on the verge of doing it right now in North Africa and Iceland, where we have bases for bombers.

"Gruenther and Allen Dulles, outside of the President, of course, see more secret information every morning than the so-called liberal intellectuals see in a year. Both of these men hate war more than you do, for good reason too. General Gruenther has seen the horror of a dozen battlefields, and the son of Allen Dulles has received terrible head wounds defending the flag in Korea.

"So please do not call these Americans warmongers. They are not telling you that you must go to war; they are trying to warn you that the Communists are bringing the war to you."
